DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM HACKER

Don Norman

1.WILLIAM HACKER

William Hacker was born in England about 1690 and died in Bush's Ford VA (present day Buckhannon, Upshur County WV) in 1775. He arrived at South Patowmack, VA (now Marlboro Point) as a transported convict aboard the "Forward" January 16, 1730/31. He was convicted at Old Bailey Sessions in April 1730 of stealing four cocks, seventeen hens, five drakes and five ducks belonging to Christopher Tilson.

Like all transported felons, William was required to serve seven years to obtain his freedom. His sentence ended May 21, 1738 in Stafford County VA and he married Ann Dillon shortly afterward. Ann was transported about three years before William and was then known as Ann Turner. She probably married a Dillon before she married William.

John Hacker, a son of William and Ann (Dillon) Hacker, was born in Stafford County VA January 2, 1743 and died in Lewis County VA (WV) April 20, 1824.

John served ninety one days in Captain James Booths company of VA militia in 1777 and was discharged by Captain Booth July 13, 1777. 8.WILLIAM HACKER 4.JOHN HACKER 1.WILLIAM HACKER

William Hacker, a son of John and Margaret (Sleeth) Hacker, was born in Harrison County VA (WV) May 3, 1770 and died in Lewis County VA (WV) in 1826. His estate was inventoried for the Lewis County court September 27, 1826.

He married Mary Adah West in Harrison County VA February 12, 1791. Mary, a daughter of Edmond Sr. and Mary West, was born December 20, 1770.

In A.S. Withers' "Chronicles of Border Warfare" William Hacker and others are alleged to have massacred the one hundred inhabitants of an Indian village at present day Bulltown, Braxton County WV in the summer of 1782 in retaliation for an Indian massacre of the Stroud family in June of 1782.

Although these accounts have been accepted as fact for many years, other authors doubt its truth. An anonymous writer of an article in "Awhile Ago Times", reprinted in "The Hacker's Creek Journal" states that Chief Bull and his Delawares were moved from Bulltown by the Indian Affairs Commissioner in May 1772 and references a number of documents proving that the Delawares moved south to the lower Mississippi, where Chief Bull died after 1810.

Robert B. Smith states that in 1772, Captain Bull and his people moved to the White River in Indiana, about eighteen miles from present day Wabash. In 1778, after the capture of English General Hamilton, they removed to the Mississippi. Smith cites Simon Kenton's "Notes", Draper's "Manuscripts" and private documents is support of his statements.

There is evidence that Withers' "Chronicles of Border Warfare" is a rewrite of documents compiled by William Hacker and William Powers and published shortly after 1825. Withers is alleged to have been hired by publisher Joseph Israel in 1831. to rewrite the "Chronicles" after the death of the original authors.
